

CarbonCopyPRO™

The creation of what is now known as CarbonCopyPRO began in 2004 as the brainchild of Internet entrepreneur's Jay Kubassek, Alan Moore, and Aaron Parkinson. Motivated by their desires to break free from the bureaucratic bonds of traditional business, corporate corruption, and dead-end jobs; CarbonCopyPRO has become the Internet's premiere marketing education and resource company, serving entrepreneurs in over 150 countries around the world.

CarbonCopyPRO capitalized on the emergence of the Internet as not just a conduit of business, but a commodity in and of itself. Creating a membership based community of entrepreneurs that stands at the forefront of the industry in its technical proficiency, efficacy, structure and support mechanisms.

CarbonCopyPRO provides an integrated education and instructional platform that facilitates members quickly and efficiently creating their own plug and play, Internet Marketing business. Eliminating traditional overhead, CarbonCopyPRO provides a fully staffed virtual office; communication tools, business resources along with the training and support needed for each member's success.

To protect the integrity of the community, as well as to contain the growth, CarbonCopyPRO membership is by referral and application only.

CarbonCopyPRO membership provides the following and more:

System:

- A fully integrated and personalized online marketing and customer management system
- Detailed traffic, lead and sales tracking capabilities
- Professional call center to assist in closing member product sales
- Available in 42 languages and over 150 countries

Training:

- Comprehensive video training library
- Marketing plans for variable budgets and levels of experience
- Master Marketing Program that teaches a combination of traditional and contemporary Internet marketing techniques
- Weekly educational webinars and tele-seminars
- Daily entrepreneurial and mindset training
- Live Master Marketing Events™
- Business leadership programs

Support:

- Email, phone and live chat support
- Professional outsourcing and virtual assistant services
- Personal marketing mentors

CarbonCopyPRO gives each member the educational tools, support and resources they require to market anything, to anyone, anywhere in the world, regardless of experience or technical expertise.